

On this day, the Sesame Street character Bert was introduced. If you could create a new character for Sesame Street, what type of character would it be? What would you name the character? What type of physical and emotional characteristics would they have?